

Copyright Permissions

Contributed by Tom Marxen

What we ask is simple You can use these lessons in your classroom, within your science department, within your school district, or distribute it to any teacher that may find these lessons useful. We only ask that:

- You can not sell these lessons or make a profit on them in any way.

- You cite the lessons original source, and do not white-out the copyright footer on the pdf files.

- Do not copy and paste lessons onto your website. A link to the original is to be used.

- Do not claim these lessons as your own work.

When you register, subscribe, and/or download any resources on www.Saturday-Science-Workshop.com you agree to these terms.

Thank You.